in the trial. Harrison called as experts on attorney's fees Deputy Attorney General Andrews, Deputy County Attorney Milverion and former Judge Humphreys. Mr. Humphreys said that the Board of Health of Hawan was the most arbitrary body in the world, having its counterpart only in the tyrannical bodies of the middle ages. Harrison was flatly contracdict. ed by Mrs. Atcherley on many points of fact, and the jury by its verdict showed it believed her. She said she dismissed Harrison and sought a more honest lawyer when he had proposed to her to have Dr. Peterson prepare an affidavit by which Dr. Atcherley would swear that he was drunk when he did the crazy talking that led to his arrest for insanity.

Harrison passionately objected to Mrs. Atcherley's remarks in her closing address to the jury, when she pointed out that the complaint on its face bore the false interpretation, interpretative dramatization of which the newspapers fell into owing to the wording, that the notes were for loan made to her.

It was plain at the end that the jury was weary of the day's work. While sa Square thought, beginning at half- Harrison was making his closing speech at least two of the jurors fell asleep. One in the front row let his chin fall upon his chest in slumber, while one in the back raised his closed eyes to the ceiling with his head filted against the wall.

Several members of the Wholesate Liquor Dealers' Association were present at the meeting of the Liquor License Commission yesterday afternoon. Mr. Buchly proposed the appointment of a chemist to inspect liquor, whose board rejected the proprosition. A sense prevailing between the board and the dealers was that imitation liquors were less harful to the human system than the genuine alcoholic drinks of commerce. George Lycurgus once more met a denial of his petition for license to sell intoxicants at the Union Grill after saloon hours.
